On the heels of launching its popular flat-rate photo scanning packages, FotoBridge ups the ante with photo negative film conversions and more value-based service options.

"We are delighted with the confidence our customers have shown by entrusting us with their irreplaceable photo collections," said Edward O'Boyle, FotoBridge's CEO. "Clearly, the value we deliver contributed to the early success of our flat-rate model. Today, we have expanded our offerings to include more 35mm Slide Packages and new 35mm Negative Packages.
